

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph [0011] with the following rewritten paragraph:

[0011] Taking the above-mentioned present status into account, the present inventors have eagerly studied, and as a result of it, found that a composition in which an acrylic polymer or a methacrylic polymer containing ~~low molecular~~ low molecular weight components in a ~~low content~~ low content is contained as a constituent component is suitable for a material for forming a gap fill material, and they completed the present invention.
